Our Goods are New.
Our Location Central.
Our Prices Reasonable.

We have moved here and have made permanent improvements, with the sole view of making this our future home. We have come to do a legitimate business: not to drive out competition, but to meet it. Not to sell poor goods at cut-throat prices, but to sell honest quality, as cheap as the market will permit us. We shall not ask that our goods and prices be judged by aught else than the standard of merit. Our business methods must speak for themselves. When you are in need of anything in the Grocery Line give our house a call, and our goods and prices consideration. Speaking for a share of public patronage, we are, your respectfully,

Y., and Miss Anna goes to the New England Conservatory of Music, at Boston. These two ladies have their mark set high and none doubt but they will reach it.

Carl M. Broadus, who for two years has a position in the INTELLIGENCER composing room, is now a Methodist preacher. The North Missouri Conference last week assigned him to Union Star, Mo., for the coming year. He entered the newspaper business as a "devil" and came out a preacher. This is a wonderful age.

The Waddell sale, which took place last Sunday, was largely attended. Much of the personal property sold well. Of course, some things sold very cheap; but the bulk of the property offered was of high order and sold very well.

Waddell, the administrator, had charge of the sale, and it was conducted fair and impartially.

The Southwest Missouri Conference is in session at Webb City, Mo. Rev. C. H. Ryan, Rev. J. M. Boone, Judge John H. Boyd, President A. A. Jones and Judge T. A. Catron are members of the conference and are in attendance.

The official address of the conference is at the residence of Rev. C. H. Ryan, at Webb City, Mo. The delegates will return Tuesday.

The Lexington Business college opened very auspiciously. It is expected that the enrollment will reach twenty by the first of the week. This is a young institution, but it bids fair to be a giant in educational circles. Of course the number of its students could not be expected to be as large as that of other institutions, as this is its first year. But the INTELLIGENCER will be disappointed if another year does not bring students by the scores. Merit will win. The institution is meritorious.

Our colleges are all open and the pupils are hard at work. Elizabeth Aull Seminary has thirty-seven boarders, a larger number than it has had in recent years. At this time Central College has nearly sixty, and room has been engaged for enough to make this number more than a hundred. Baptist college has also an increased attendance. About sixty young ladies are making their home there this winter. More are coming next week.

Westworth Military Academy is way in the lead this year. It now has fifty-five boarders, and a large number yet to come. The reputation increases year by year.

Judge Hamilton, U. S. District Judge of New Mexico, has two sons there; and the president of the National Bank of Galveston, Texas, and also of the Cotton Exchange, Mr. Julius Ringer, is one of its patrons this year. W. M. A. is the oldest and best military school in the West, and it is going forward rapidly.

Ford's Christian Repository has this to say: Sermons and Sermon Outlines together with definite and explicit rules for sermonizing on as logical and systematic a plan as can well be devised, with over one hundred sketches or plans made in strict conformity to those rules.

By H. M. Richardson, D. D., Lexington, Mo. Brother Richardson has spent his life in the ministry, and has brought to bear over his pulpit labors a warm heart, an educated, well-trained mind, and what may be called a homiletical genius, or rather an aptitude for sermon building. The outlines of sermons come first. These are each quite brief—not more than a page. They are clear and comprehensive. Each one is the first ground work of a discourse. Then follow the sermons, one of which fills more than ten pages, most of them six or seven. They are transparent in style, elevated and elegant; they are all solid good sound doctrine, breathing the spirit of a man who believes, and therefore has spoken and written these earnest sermons. This work is the fruit of Brother Richardson's long, laborious, useful life. It will be as aid to ministers and a treasury of devout scriptural thoughts to private Christians. Its cost is a dollar with fifteen cents added when sent by mail. We speak for a generous patronage, and hope the brethren generally will aid in its circulation. It is published in handsome style by E. W. Stephens, Columbia, Mo., from whom copies may be obtained, or from the author, Lexington, Mo.

The annual meeting of the Lafayette and Johnson Baptist Association was held at Warrensburg last week. The meeting was an interesting one. 1200 copies of the minutes were ordered printed, and the contract has been awarded to the INTELLIGENCER. The next annual meeting will be held in this city.

DEATH.
Died, at Lexington, Mo., near this city, September 17, 1895, Mr. Elijah Brown, aged 84 years.

He was born in Allegheny county, Maryland, and moved to Illinois in 1878. Since last April he had resided in St. Louis. His remains were interred at Shipman's, Illinois, yesterday.

He was a member of the Methodist church for more than a half century. He leaves six children, four in St. Louis and two in Maryland; was the father of Mrs. A. J. Shultz, wife of the owner of Linwood Lawn. Mr. Brown was a honest, Christian man. One who knew him well spoke of him as a man of great integrity, but not an enemy. His character combined the highest virtues of citizenship. The INTELLIGENCER extends sympathy to his bereaved relatives.

For the Lexington Intelligencer.

When first you came, our loving hearts to brighten,
Your love, the world did light;
We each in turn did press you to our

Your tiny hand so softly seemed to rest.
We bade you welcome, little fairy one,
When into this sad world you sweetly came.

The dearest little face that e'er was seen,
We called thee, darling baby—Gerardine.

The blue-bells in the wood breathed anxious sighs
When first they gazed into your bonny eyes.

Tell us now what crimson rose you dipped
Your tiny lips and tinted finger tips,
For love's sweet kisses, and for love's sweet lips,
The echo of it never shall be still.

Your sweet child, our baby—Gerardine,
The sweetest babe of all—our Gerardine.

But, ah! the fairest flowers droop and die,
And they have taken you after on high.
Hushed the laughing voice and dark the room;
Beyond the golden gates you wait and

Your baby lips so long unkindly we feel.
Come back to us, if only in a dream,
Our sweet child, our baby—Gerardine.

Begin the day with a cup of Morning
Glory Coffee.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in this lifetime, and that is HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

The cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood, purifying the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
